

Welcome to the 63rd BBC Active Tutors' Club Newsletter!

Hopefully you will be reading this newsletter feeling fully relaxed, taking a well-earned break. In recognition of the 'Summer' holidays, this month's newsletter features links to language fun and games available on the internet, as well as some great savings on BBC Active courses to help you prepare for the new term.

We are also asking for your help to inform our future publishing, as we plan to extend both our Talk and Talk 2 ranges in the next few years, as well as investigating what some of you would require in the way of resources for teaching Polish.

Whatever you are doing, wherever you are, I hope you enjoy this month's newsletter.

NEWS FROM BBC ACTIVE

Be master of your own membership

The BBC Active Languages website now has a special section for tutors to update their registration details. All you need to do is go to the tutors' section of our website at <http://www.bbcactive.com/languages/tutors/> and click on 'Log In' on the menu on the left-hand side. You will then be asked for a password - this is currently set as 'languages' for everyone, so you need to log in to change your password and make it secure. Once you have logged in, you can also access the Site Licences and Evaluation Copies pages. Why not take a look?

Extending the Talk 2 range

As you know, Talk 2, the second level of our bestselling Talk range, was published this July in French, Italian and Spanish. But what other languages would you like to see in the Talk 2 range? Email me and let me know at susanna.jones@pearson.com. The results of the feedback will help inform our future publishing, so your opinions really do count.

Tutors of Polish

We would like to find out what sort of classes you are running for Polish - are they for business, holiday or working within the Polish community in the UK? Let us know what kinds of resources you would like to have by emailing me at susanna.jones@pearson.com. If you have a colleague who teaches Polish but does not receive the newsletter, please do pass this on to them.

EVENTS

Learning from the Edge - Engaging and motivating young adults

This NIACE conference will be held on 13th September 2007 at Thistle Arch Hotel, Bryanston St, Marble Arch, London W1H 7EH. Participants will learn about Government strategy and plans to support and engage marginalised and 'hard to reach' young adults in learning, the experiences and aspirations of individual young adult learners - what motivates and helps them to achieve, innovative and effective approaches to work with 'hard to reach' groups, from successful projects and who are the winners of the YALP national awards.

Conference Fee: £195 (The fee includes lunch, tea/coffee, goody bag etc.). Read more at <http://www.niace.org.uk/conferences/Conferences.htm> or contact Gurjit Kaur on 0116 204 2833; e-mail: gurjit.kaur@niace.org.uk.

Accelerating language skills through the strategic classroom: the role of initial teacher education

Friday 7 & Saturday 8 September 2007, Keele University, Staffordshire - an annual conference for all those involved in supporting trainees on initial teacher education programmes.

For this year's annual ITE conference CILT is delighted to be working in collaboration with the UK project on Language Learner Strategies (UKPOLLS) which is a group of researchers well known by the MFL ITE community. The conference will be part workshop, part presentation of research projects and will be linked to a special edition of Language Learning Journal on the theme of language learner strategies. The conference will be appropriate for teacher trainers on PGCE, SCITT and GTP for MFL and to mentors who work in partnership with any of these. For further information and a booking form please contact conferences@cilt.org.uk or by telephone 020 7379 5101 Ext 287 quoting code KE0907ITT

Joe Dale's TeachMeet and the Isle of Wight Conference 2007

Joe Dale is organising a free TeachMeet-type event which he is calling MFL Show and Tell. It will take place on Friday 12th October 2007 in The Castle Inn, Newport, Isle of Wight.

The idea of the MFL Show and Tell session is to give those teachers attending the Isle of Wight Conference 2007 an opportunity to share good practice on the use of technology in the classroom before the big event. The session will take place in the private function room The Stable Bar from 8 pm. If you would like to come along for a drink and a chat, drop Joe an email.

The Isle of Wight Conference - Integrating ICT into the MFL Classroom will take place on Saturday 13th October at Nodehill Middle School, Upper St James Street, Newport, IOW. Like last year, it will feature leading practitioners from around the country running sessions and workshops on hot topics such as blogging, podcasting, digital video, eTwinning, primary languages, whole class teaching with PowerPoint, whiteboards/classroom performance system, one stop animation, music, song, rhythm and movement and assessment for learning. Entry fee will be £50 per delegate which will include a buffet lunch. If you would like to take part in this exciting opportunity for continuing professional development, complete the booking form on The Specialist Schools and Academies Trust's website when it becomes available at www.ssatrust.org.uk in August.

Forthcoming ALL Workshops

On Friday 19th October 2007, Monday 11th February 2008, Thursday 5th June 2008 and Friday 19th June 2008, a series of free workshops (funded by Specialist School Status) are taking place. Click here for download letter of invitation: <http://www.all-london.org.uk/Resources/Presentations%20Letter%20July%202007.doc> and contact Helen Myers' school direct to book places: langcoll@ashcombe.surrey.sch.uk.

A ten-day residential course for teachers of Italian from all sectors

Thinking of brushing up your Italian and getting up to date with what's going on? Would you also like to spend ten days immersing yourself in Italian (particularly Florentine) life and culture? Then this course is for you. Whatever your level of Italian, we aim to improve your language skills and provide you with the opportunity to explore life and culture in one of the most beautiful cities in Italy. The course is held at the British Institute of Florence, situated either side of the river Arno in the heart of the centro storico, a few minutes' walk from art galleries, museums and palazzi. The course will be run exclusively in Italian and you will be encouraged to use Italian as much as possible throughout. Find more details at www.cilt.org.uk/cpd.

Italian Painting in Italian

Two workshops in central London organised by Succeed in Languages for intermediate to advanced speakers of Italian. Held at Living English, 1st Floor 218 Strand WC2R 1AT, the workshops are entitled 'How to read Italian Paintings in Italian'.

RESOURCES

CILT publishes curriculum guides for community languages

Available for Arabic, Chinese, Panjabi, Tamil and Urdu, the guides provide a flexible outline for planning the design and delivery of language courses in mainstream and complementary schools. They draw on policy developments in language teaching, including the Key Stage 2 Framework for Languages, the Key Stage 3 National Strategy and the Languages Ladder, and interpret them in a practical way for teachers.

Up-to-date resources and information supporting the Curriculum guides, and the Curriculum guides themselves, can be downloaded from the Goldsmiths Community Languages Resource Base on <http://community.gold.ac.uk/> (You will need to create an account at <http://community.gold.ac.uk/login/index.php>, and when asked if you want to enrol on the course, click 'yes' to be able to access the Curriculum guides and other information). The guides cost £8 each in hard copy, and are available to order from Central Books: Central Books Ltd, 99 Wallis Road, London E9 5LN, Tel 44 (0)845 458 9911 Fax 44(0)845 458 9912, email info@centralbooks.com, www.centralbooks.com. For more information see <http://www.cilt.org.uk/publications/curriculumguides.htm>

CILT unveils new 14-19 website wonders

As you are probably already aware, the 14-19 Diplomas are the new qualifications for 14-19 year olds which herald the biggest change to the 14-19 curriculum for many years. Sitting alongside GCSEs and A Levels, they offer young people the opportunity to gain knowledge and skills within an applied, sector-focused context. There is now a Diploma page on the 14-19 area of the CILT website with the latest information on languages in the 14-19 Diplomas at <http://www.cilt.org.uk/14-19/diplomas.htm>.

Video and written material on language-learning

A few weeks ago the Modern Foreign Languages Environment (MFLE) repackaged some video and written materials created, used and now published by Scottish CILT during their outreach programme of 2005-6. They cover the topics surrounding motivation in language learning, with video excerpts from extensive interviews with Prof Zoltan Dornyei: <http://www.ltscotland.org.uk/mfle/sharingpractice/motivation/index.asp>.

News from Joe Dale

Joe's seventeenth blog contribution 'Podcasting and language skills' is now live on the TES website. It concerns advice on how to host your podcasts on PodOmatic, a free podcasting portal which also enables you to generate a RSS feed automatically to enable your pupils to subscribe to your podcasts via iTunes. Here is the link:

<http://www.tes.co.uk/blogs/blog.aspx?path=/ICT/&post=2403316>

Joe has also uploaded some Nodehill French Grammar Podcasts at http://joedale.typepad.com/integrating_ict_into_the_/2007/07/nodehill-french.html
In case you feel daunted by this, then Joe has provided a link to a post about a language teacher who overcame her initial scepticism of podcasting in the primary curriculum when she discovered how easy it was to do!
