NEWS FROM BBC ACTIVE

***COMPETITION***

What would you like to see in the newsletter? Tell us to win!
BBC Active have teamed up with Dorling Kindersley and Rough Guides to offer an exciting incentive to have your say in your newsletter. Tell us what new feature you would like to see in the BBC Active newsletter and you could win either a Rough Guide or a DK Eyewitness guide of your choice!

Whether you think we should have an ideas forum, or a competition for teaching tip of the month, we are open to suggestions and the choice is yours. Email me with your ideas at susanna.jones@pearson.com and the best five will be planning their holidays in style with DK and Rough Guides.

Why not pick your prize in advance at www.travel.dk.com or www.roughguides.com?

A plea for Primary French feedback!

To those of you who are teaching French in primary schools, we would really appreciate it if you could let us have your thoughts on any or all of the following: will you be using the new QCA scheme of work? Are you aware of it? What do you think of it? Do you prefer it to the old scheme of work for French? Please send your thoughts to me at susanna.jones@pearson.com. Primary language advisors should also feel free to contribute! We really value your opinions, so please do let me know.

BBC Active exhibition at CILT

Regular users of the CILT Resources Centre in Bedfordbury may have noticed the new exhibition of BBC Active multimedia courses. The temporary display coincides with BBC Active's sponsorship of the European Award for Languages, and showcases the latest in BBC Active multimedia resources. Why not drop by and take a look? The CILT Resources library is at CILT Resources Library, 20 Bedfordbury, London WC2N 4LB, Telephone: 020 7379 5101 ext.221. Read more at <http://www.cilt.org.uk/irs/index.htm>.

Written by educational consultant Hilary McColl and Catriona Oates, professional services officer at Scottish CILT, Maximise Your Potential supports individual modern language teachers and modern language departments in meeting the needs of an ever-widening range of learners. In collaboration with your learning support colleagues, Maximising Potential invites you to reflect on your current methodology and on the learning experiences of pupils who may be causing concern. The programme gives you a structure for working out strategies to help improve both. It was piloted in three City of Edinburgh schools in session 2006-7 with considerable success; feedback from the teachers involved has helped to determine the online version made available to you through MFLE.

SURVEYS AND COMPETITIONS

Routes Into Languages video competition

With activity to promote language learning set to intensify as the Routes into Language project takes off, here's an activity to get students thinking about the point of learning another language and producing a useful resource at the same time. The competition, run by CILT, involves creating a two minute video clip that presents the most convincing case for being able to speak more than one language. It can be an interview, an animation, a sketch or even some sort of spoof - the funnier the better! The competition is open to individuals and to groups of students aged 13-21, and uses YouTube as a platform to display entries.

For further details go to our microsite at www.youtube.com/routesintolanguages
