

Controllo finale

The activities in this section of the book have been selected to bring together the topics and the language used in Talk Italian as a coherent whole. They are suitable as revision material or as assessment activities.

Summative assessment of speaking skills can be carried out using all the Now you're talking pages as role plays.

At the very end of this section, after Activity 12, there is a series of unprompted questions on the audio which are suitable for assessing whether learners can provide personal information.

Answers could be recorded and used as evidence of competence.