Contrôle 2

This is an appropriate point to review and/or assess progress, and the activities on pages 67 to 70 of Talk French are designed for this purpose.

Many of the activities can be used for extension work:

- Giving direction to local places along the lines of Activity 1.
- Paired interviews to elicit the same information as Activity 2 – with real or fictitious identities.
- Using the gapped letter in Activity 8 as a model for learners to express their own/family's hotel requirements.
- Learners could work in twos or threes to produce crosswords as in Activity 9 for others to solve.

At this stage, learners also have enough French to make up simple but interesting role plays for getting directions, asking about places or finding accommodation.
